

Mr. Giovanni L. Foye, jeweler, in a recent visit to Provincetown, obtained a cutting from the timbers of the British frigate Somerset, which was wrecked on Pease Island in 1777, the hull deeply imbedded in the sands of Cape Cod. The fragment in the possession of Mr. Thompson in the live oak and as sound as though the timber and just as well as the original. The Somerset was brought to bear at early noon on the American fortifications which had been constructed during the night, and soon after the bay and on the commerce of the "rebels." The frigate was finally ordered to cruise for the French fleet, and in November, 1778, she was despatched from Provincetown, driving before a northeaster and striving to weather the Cape and reach Boston; but her sails were blown away, and rolling helplessly in the terrible sea she struck upon the rocks. No relief could be afforded by the fleet nor from the shore, and after pounding for nearly a week the British frigate was driven on the shore and high up on the beach, a score of her crew were captured by the militia and sent to Boston as prisoners. The wreck was abandoned, but the hull finally became covered by the drifting sands and remained in the sand for two or three years, when it was excavated by relic hunters and the timber cut up for souvenirs of "the times that tried men's souls."

The Nominations.
For Sheriff of Norfolk county the Republican convention has met with a lively opposition among the friends of Sheriff Endicott, who has previously received the support of both Republican and Democratic parties. The position with ability and to the satisfaction of the public. It is warmly argued that civil service rules should apply in this case, as even his opponents testify to his fitness and capacity for the office, and to show the sentiment of county and city papers a furnished in our columns to representation of opinion on the subject.

A petition to the Secretary of State is being circulated by the republicans of Weymouth and Norfolk county, asking that the name of Augustus B. Endicott be printed on the ballots as the citizens' candidate for sheriff of Norfolk county, and many signatures have been obtained.

Driving Business.
The duties of a clergyman are very exacting in these days of modern progress, with societies of various kinds connected with church work springing up on all sides, adding to pulpit and pastoral work. One instance of the increase of ministerial duties was called last Sunday in the case of Rev. D. F. Eaton, pastor of the First Universalist church, who officiated at six different services during the day and evening, and probably felt the morning, though a healthy trip to Europe could be a decided benefit. Mr. Eaton is a zealous worker, and the people of his faith in this vicinity, as well as others, have called him to many of the duties among these being the presidency of the new Norfolk County Universalist Sunday School Union, the pastor of the Old Colony Universalist Association, held at Abington last week, he was chosen its president, and he has also been appointed president of the C. L. S. Circle of Weymouth.

Stockholders Meeting.
The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the stockholders of the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society was held at the Reform Club hall, South Weymouth, last Tuesday evening, President B. F. Eaton in the chair. The first business was the reading of the report of the last annual meeting of the secretary, Gordon Willis.

400 of the society's stockholders have been paid during the year, which brings their total debt down to $3000. The next business was the reading of the report of the secretary, Gordon Willis, which was read by Mr. F. Eaton. The report was a very interesting one, and was followed by a report of the treasurer, Gordon Willis.

Escape from Death.
Superintendent of the State Prison, Mr. J. P. Trell, escaped from the prison on Tuesday night. He was seen at the prison on Tuesday night, and was seen at the prison on Tuesday night. He was seen at the prison on Tuesday night, and was seen at the prison on Tuesday night.

Organization.
The young people of the Baptist church and Sunday school met at the pastor's residence Tuesday evening, the 15th, for a social time and to consider plans of work. Between forty and fifty were present. Mr. Chas. H. Adams of Dorchester, a college classmate of Mr. Smith, was present and currently addressed the society of Christian Endeavor. After hearing Mr. Adams some of the young people expressed themselves as desiring to join the Christian Endeavor society, and then the company voted unanimously and enthusiastically to form such a society. A committee of three was appointed to prepare a constitution and by-laws for the society, which will be presented at the next meeting, which will occur next Tuesday evening at the church. All young people are invited to attend.

Death of John O. Foye.
Mr. John O. Foye, one of our best business men in this town, who has for many years been a resident of Weymouth, died suddenly last Friday, aged 70 years, at his residence, 151 Commercial street, Weymouth, Mass. He was born in Weymouth, N. H., Jan. 15, 1819, and came to Weymouth at an early age, being employed by his brother in the creation of a Universalist church, and in 1840 he commenced the hardware and building business, the building on Washington street known as Foye's building, which he continued for many years. He took an active part in the public affairs of the town, and was one of the founders of the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society, a college classmate of Mr. Smith, was present and currently addressed the society of Christian Endeavor. After hearing Mr. Adams some of the young people expressed themselves as desiring to join the Christian Endeavor society, and then the company voted unanimously and enthusiastically to form such a society. Collecting Mania matic and philatelic cranks subsiding, much to the dismay of answers to corresponders, for the values attached to pairs of coins and stamps are out. Of course a Ptolemaic or a Babylonian token is something but the counterfeits—clearly are 100 to one that can float are swindled cases. Much more interesting lately taken possession of people, and that is the art of portraits of prominent men, statesmen, soldiers, sailors and even occasionally—of a romantic sort. The illustrated papers and the world for these pictures, no trace at all for a diligent collector quite a fine pile of the celebrities of the times.
